

AQUARIUS FRAGMENTS

Extracts of Bruno Piaud's letters to JM AVRIL concerning the Age of Aquarius

(12/1/89)... I hope Germany will be reunified one day. Esoteric Germanic Tradition shows a good future for the Teutonic people, but I remain cautious. The runic deciphering of Paracelsus' prophecies says that the Awaited will be born round the years 2136/2160, founding the Reich of the golden age some 144 years later. In the prophecies of OLAUS MAGNUS, there's ground for hope. Germanic tradition can be collectively reinvigorated and, based on an ethnic group, can guarantee a certain coherence to the new empire but, considering the past, I remain skeptical. This tradition aims to exterminate all non-Germans, condition for an eternal, but still relative peace. We're far from having the cup to the lips. Yes, I believe that 'real' spirituality will be restored in the West. But 'real'? This reality will have a specific color. The true Absolute is beyond forms.

(XXX III XCII)... Concerning the part brought by England to the new era, it is first of all, and that's quite considerable, the language. English plays in the Age of Aquarius the role of Latin in the Age of Pisces. Some people, including HG Wells among other things has prophesied it.

(XV VII XCII)... One must read Guenon's judgement on Crowley but, even without knowing it, it is enough to know well Perdurabo's work to detect right away, if one has the right mind and a sufficiently elevated point of view, the origin especially impure (syncretism) of Thelema. It was a lot of work, but the components are badly used. Why is there this restless will to mix so many various things, a superb example is displayed in THE HIDDEN GOD of Kenneth Grant. Kenneth Grant is syncretism at its apex. You are right to think that THE BOOK OF THE LAW is genuine. It is indeed authentic. But it won't be of any use to us to fathom the future. Crowley has failed in his evangelization, as the doctrine was too impure due to its syncretism and its connection with an obsolete system (Egypto-Judaeo-Christian magic). Aquarius didn't find his prophet in Crowley and his intellectual approach, for He Who Is Coming isn't the Aeon of Horus.

Prophecies are almost always made well after the dominant idea patterns for that culture-epoch or civilization have been created. There are often prophecies about the end of such a period, but Egyptian prophecies do not deal with Hellenic civilization, nor Hellenic prophecies with modern civilization.

The big conflict - spiritual first of all - of the 3rd millennium will see the opposition of the gods of Vertigo and Hazard (Water and Earth) to the myths of AGON and the Mime. The first belong to the filiation SHIVA-ALLAH-KALKI; the second owe their allegiance to the filiation BRAHMA-IAVHE-MAITREYA. Once again, the form and the figure (AGON and the Mime) will be opposed to matter and motion/movement (Vertigo and Hazard). In Europe, the Novel will be honored as a god both Gemini and dispenser of justice (Aries) by Slavic nations and the countries of the Baltic Sea, while people of the Extreme-Occident of Europe will worship the creative god (the SHIVA filiation...)

There is indeed a 'thesis' supporting a destiny somewhat special for Canada (Quebec). I don't believe in Brittany anymore. Besides, frankly speaking, Ireland or the UK have as many substance to claim the possibility to play the role of 'Palestine' of the new era, and even more (due to the language). The Aquarius empire would then be established in North America (USA, Canada, Mexico).

As to Australia, from the point of view of Aquarius, she plays the role of Arabia in the Age of Pisces; in other words, the 'Mohammed' that will appear in the Age of Aquarius will come from there, Australia. In the perspective of the Golden Age, Tasmania is the core of it (one must not confuse Golden Age with the Age of Aquarius). It's all far from simple. According to Nostradamus (prediction concerning the Great Celtic), for half a century, Arabs and 'Celts' will form an alliance. By it, we mean to say that the whole of France will play a role similar to that carried out by Byzantium in the past. So, by 'Celts' and 'Gaulish nation', we mean a greater France (including Belgium and Romance Switzerland), united with 'Arabic Spain'. All this will end up in bloodshed. "The double revolt against Celts and Arabs seems to be not only a Gaulish prerogative. The origin appears to come from Belgium, spreading then to the whole of North West Europe..." (Pichon, NOSTRADAMUS EN CLAIR, Editions Robert Laffont, Paris, 1970). Errors flourish. Prophets only report what they can see, in whatever terms they can. The Renaissance witch Mother Shipton said the world would come to an end in 1880, which is in a sense true. The cultural epoch created in the Renaissance did begin to come unraveled in 1880. From her perspective, the world beyond that point was unformed, so Mother Shipton saw nothing and interpreted it as the end of the world. The only clear date is the one given by Nostradamus, i.e. July 1999.

The aristocratic path by you mentioned is well attuned with the god of creation, for Creation (Taurus) and Hierarchy (Leo) are all vertical emanation: they are recognized in the symbol of the Tree. In my opinion, the Tree expresses the power of the fixed signs (Aquarius, Scorpio, Taurus, and Leo). Like the Work (Taurus), the Tree (Aquarius) rises up toward the sky after for long having nurtured its germ, living in the entrails and womb of Earth: underground like Scorpio in its roots, now it shines like the Sun (Leo), from which its leaves and fruits get food to grow, and the Tree's dense foliage retains Sun's beams.

In Irminism, the Tree is YGGDRASIL. All the Germanic tradition shows that man is led by Destiny (Leo).

You recall that the alchemists' red gold and the Templar Baphomet is only the combination of Taurus and Leo.

Due to the fact that the myth of Equality is Justice (Aries) and the Model (Gemini), the religions of salvation will follow this myth in its fall. And the sooner, the better, for this myth kills us. Fortunately, "when a ship sinks, its pharmacy is going down with it" (ERNST JUNGER).

The new god won't only stand up among men but he will spread around them and, finally, being their container (the Grail) and their content

(the Tree), he will also be men themselves.

Irminism contains a terrible secret, which, due to that, appears to me as the tradition closest to come to term with He Who IS Coming, this secret being found nowhere else, so that I have deduced that that this path (a forgotten tradition, no wonder!) was leading more directly than all the others to the main thing.

(April 4, 1993) Concerning the new race, it's hard to speculate as to the outer aspect. It should be an 'adolescent' race according to Paracelsus among others. Today's youths are disappointing, drugged, conformist, and sometimes violent. They've definitely lost the plot and they're on the whole frankly hopeless. It's not with them that we will build the new era in one or two centuries. It's with those who will come after the huge disasters that are programmed. It's useless to ask questions concerning our own future, for we won't be compensated for the disgrace of living in a period as abominable as ours, and even if the worse is avoided, it will end up badly anyway, and without funeral panegyric for the illustrious dead.

(May 5, 1993)

If the USA will become the Aquarius empire, it will necessitate a transformation as considerable as the one that turned pagan Rome into Christian Rome. It means that everything that make up the present America will inevitably disappear.

(XIX V XCIII)

First of all let's deal with the reference to the past. It's a matter of creating what is ahead of man, and not only a question of imitating what is behind him. The thing is, the Novel (Aquarius) is not here, not yet, and therefore before us is the void. Against this emptiness, we resort then to modes of anchorage; i.e. to refer to a tradition or an ancient culture submits the discursive reasoning, the discourse to an authoritative argument. It brings some furniture to the empty room so to speak, while we wait for the future removal. This wards off fear: the word of evolution (the prophecy of the Novel) increases wastes and deserts (let's make a clean sweep of the past). There is a positive aspect: the fact that the word that speaks ahead bases its evolution and future on its recourse to the past brings naturally the prophet to inverse his relation to time. Thus, hailed by evolution and eternity (all that is passing returns to God) the present hides and dies in this motion. Or in a different manner: the past waves to the evolution that will be its word (the last formulation of Aquarius goes back 26000 years ago). For who can speak of future and evolution without first having mastered both life and the force of the past? Yes, the power that turns eternity into both the fishpond and the origin of forms comprises the word of evolution. Mastering the present because the totality of previous forms resides within it, to speak the present masters at the same time evolution of which it is one of its forms, one of its wills, one of its powers of metamorphosis. Clear, isn't it?

I don't mind cultivating the virtue of forgetting. After all, without forgetfulness that allows the coming of the True, memory can only be nostalgia, gloom and illusion. Let's thus deliver memory in view of the future times. (J.C. Pichon recommends, or almost, to become a vagrant, a tramp, which is still a reference as the down-and-out is governed by, an expression of Libra). I hardly see anyone able in this silence to stand up for long.

That's why traditionalist don't want to hear of Aquarius, they only recommend to chose an existing traditional form, even if it's degenerate, and to make one's nest within it while awaiting. For there's no redemption without form. All the other paths lead nowhere for they are adventurous, if not completely daredevil approach. "Exoterically speaking, man is cursed because he doesn't accept such revelation, such truth and doesn't obey such law; esoterically, he manages to curse himself for he doesn't accept his fundamental and primordial nature, which dictates to him such knowledge and such behavior" (FRITHJOF SCHUON). In short, let's choose a form (Christianity, Islam, Thelema, Buddhism, etc.) and let's wait for the death of all those who go astray. Enough trips in hypothesis, the Novel is still pretty far.

The ideal would be a form reduced to its simplest expression as to the components come from the past, and opening to the Novel, bridging the gap (like before the cult of Mithra bridged the gap between Aries and Pisces, and disappeared once the Gospels were propagated). I thought I found it in the Druid tradition, then in Shiva-worship, and then still better in the Germanic tradition (Irminism). But I'm not fooled by the artificiality of the approach. Yet this recourse is forecast (the vulcanian cult = the stone in the tree, this is foreseen by Nostradamus, but it's total uncertainty as to the people that will be its carnal support. Will it be a Breton race (Celtic) or a Norman race (Germanic)? We will see).

There is thus no traditional source that mentions a good deal about Aquarius. And if I speak about it, that's because I'm not a strict observance traditionalist.

(March 23, 1994)

In the 21st Century, the fight to the death against Abrahamism will start, inseparable from the war against the modern world and the USA, as in the past the struggle against Rome was inseparable from the fight against decadent pagan cults and the Antiquity social system based on slavery. Today the new Rome (USA) protects with its missiles the white sepulchres of dead religions. All that presently exists will have to be swept away to allow the Novel to take the power without sharing. From this point of view, all nuisances are our allies. That's why it's useless to support ecologists as long ago it was futile to support the Spartakists, who wanted to leave slavery behind, but not the Antiquity world, as our Greens don't want the end of the modern world, but its pollution-free management. I see clearly, three centuries ahead of everybody. I'm thus condemned to silence, but it's good that such awareness exists at the hour of the greatest despair. Would I be the only one to have those ideas, it would also be the proof that this world is condemned, inevitably. This is also why I took some distance from the masters of tradition: they're all Abrahamian.

(XI IV XCIV)

I don't think we can participate to the birth of the Novel, as the prophet isn't here yet, and the games of esotericism are not enough to guide us. It is predicted, among others, that we will seek a crutch in the old traditions (which explains my involvement in the Celtic tradition in the past, and hence the publication of the BOOK OF NABELKOS) and that stage isn't finished, far from it. That's why I now dabble with the Germanic tradition, which leads more directly than Druidry to the Novel, especially because of the symbol of the Tree (YGGDRASILL) that is absolutely essential in Irminism. But I've no delusions about it, for the crowd of Germanist followers is as miserable and shabby now as the average of Celtomania guys were twenty years ago (and they haven't changed). I've received lately several Odinist magazines and it's really bad, including the Anglo-Saxon ones (American even suggest the sale of gadgets, therefore they're making dollars money, and there they keep their wits about them). Each of those papers is a one-man show, you cannot write anything in it. It is true that in the French-Speaking sphere, Germanism is a new thing.

Concerning Shiva-worship (and here, it's real serious), my approach was motivated, among others, by what Nostradamus' prediction according to which the new 'messiah' would be born in the far west of Europe (like in Brittany for instance), and that the new belief would grow in the Orient first, and that it would be from the East that the first 'apostles' (like Saint Paul in the past) would bring the new faith to PORT SEKIN (USA). I couldn't see what 'Good News' from the West could grow in the East, so I thought a simplified version of Shiva metaphysics could be the opportunity of the miracle. But it was a vague supposition. There's also the problem of the sacrifice. In the sphere of the Cardinals, the sacrifice is the one by which the Father (Abraham) accepts to sacrifice the Son (Isaac); in the sphere of the Mutables, the sacrifice (the Cross) was the Son (Christ) sacrificed to the Father. In the sphere of the Fixed, the torture and execution will involve both Father and Son. Or in Irminism is found the birth of the Father by/from the Son. In any case, the crime that will cause the Aquarius prophet to be executed will be his refusal of love, like the crime that caused Christ to be condemned to death was his refusal of Justice (Aries). Death by sacrifice is the true birth of God. According to Nostradamus, the place of future execution would be Switzerland. Why not?

There are many other problems too, and I recall that Pichon was recommending to become down-and-out or to go living up in the mountains in some derelict sheepfold, like in the past in the vicinity of the coming of the Age of Pisces, the purest ones withdrew from society, going to settle near the sea, in the make shift 'hermitages', or in some cave in the cliffs, thus experiencing communion with the water element in waiting for the coming of Pisces. I've got friends who dropped all and they've gone to live in the Pyrenees, among them are two Shiva-worshippers and one was initiated in the Kashmir with me. Others go wandering on the planet and one is in Polynesia. Wisdom or escapism. Others have chosen drugs or suicide.

What is sure is that there's nothing to expect from the present time and its flock. It is vain to dabble in the basements of crepuscular myths. I betrayed in staying in society, it would have to be compensated. The new formulation of the Irminist gnosis might give the opportunity before my demise. We'll see.

(Late 1995)

The quality of your writing improves, but it remains a work of syncretism, very 'New-Age' type, and really Anglo-Saxon in this point of view. We will speak again of the Earth Mother in the Age of Capricorn. Aquarius is a male sign. By the way, the 'sign' I was waiting for is from now on clearly visible: The South Pole ice is currently melting. In a little more than a century - or even before - The ocean level will rise in an alarming manner, and then submerge coastal areas. I've got the maps, drawn by scientists have undertaken 'projections' based on that. The consequences are terrifying: New York and other big cities are under water, huge population exodus on the way, etc. It inevitable because of the 'greenhouse effect' generated by industry and its product, with the car to start with. At the same time, it's possible to see other things in it. For instance, this 'melting' may be directed by the 'Nazi scientists' of the Antarctica secret base (NEUSCHWABLAND). What an ultimate vengeance. It's pretty weird as far as the scenario is concerned. You can build fantasy on this as a writer and live of it. In the Germanic tradition, the fire of the destruction of the world in RAGNAROK is SURTALOGI, coming from the South. I speak about it in my chapter on the SCHWARZE SONNE in reminding the reader that this symbol was the main ornament of the paving of the GRUFFENFUHRERSAAL of the infamous HAUS WEWELSBURG.

If you knew what I know, you would die right away.

(June 11, 1995)

... Having said that, this book by Slouka, WAR OF THE WORLDS, is remarkable and is a very good reference. The author has understood pretty well the Spirit of Cyberspace is nothing else but some sort of Techno-Christianity. I was thinking that for a while, but I needed the rational proof, and that's done now with this Mark Slouka ... Nonetheless, I must use this book for it's really good. In the meantime, I will read more carefully for it's worth it. The main thing concerning Cyberspace or Hyperspace is the destructive aspect. We must see this as something contributing to the liquidation of the modern world. Besides, everything and anything produced by this society contributes to its destruction. "The cyberspace revolution would seek to erase the World as we had known it." Good news for some. Someone in a nihilist position vis-à-vis this modern society can only applaud this fact. As to the Spirit of Cyberspace "it was of the same spirit as Christianity, but bigger." Of course that it's a parody of the spirit of Pisces. As the whole rest, today, all over the place. But it's a killing parody, without love and compassion. It's not surprising if one sees, all of a sudden, cybernauts being shot at. Like several recent news items occurring in the USA prove it. You're right to predict the Internet will be a tool of the caricatural empire of the Antichrist. We're only at the start of our surprises for the nightmare to come will surpass in horrors our most feverish imaginations. Concerning 1999, we're getting close to the doom-laden date (July/August) and whomever will live will see. It's possible it all end up in a disappointment. According to the predictions of La Tessier and Andre Barbault (PREVISIONS ASTROLOGIQUES POUR LE NOUVEAU MILLENAIRE, Editions Dangles), the date to worry about is 2010/2012. But, in my opinion, the dangerous moment in the 21st Century is 2040

(Neptune square Uranus), and also and especially between 2060 and 2070 (Neptune square Pluto). That's going to be a huge blood bath. It was predicted that Israel would disappear in this sector.

(September 9, 1999)

... Indeed, wisdom and compassion are inseparable in the Mahayana, which troubles me a bit for I find it hard to feel any inch of compassion towards today's man, this man currently leading the planet to its destruction. For man is responsible for the ecological chaos. I've just received information on predictable catastrophes and it's horrible. I've got the map showing the threat of lack of drinking water. In Europe, the UK is on top of the list for that. In 2050, Africa, Arabia, Iran, India will be dry and waterless areas. Complete shortage. They hide many things, but from now on it's impossible to rely on denial, like when it concerns the ice melting. Add to that the danger of anti-cyclone more and more violent. Breton tempests have more than doubled in 30 years. The rest will follow. One can't help sometime but experience some pleasure from it, for sometime misfortune is necessary and it's good. A kind of revenge for us all who have to survive in this shit.

(December 12, 1999)

... The myth of the ancient Goddess won't become really 'constructive' until the Age of Capricorn that is a female sign of Earth. Aquarius being a male air sign, replacing the female water sign of Pisces, therefore, the Goddess won't be much active in the new era.

Virile characters (mobility, continuity, warmth): AQUARIUS, ARIES, GEMINI, LEO, LIBRA, SAGITTARIUS.

Feminine characters (static, discontinuity, cold): SCORPIO, CAPRICORN, PISCES, TAURUS, CANCER, VIRGO.

Here, a dialectic is installed that says a lot. For instance: Pisces fear the Taurus spirit (feminine like the sign of the fishes), despise the preceding spirit of Aries and have turned the serpent (Cancer) in the symbol of evil (repulsion through analogy).

In crepuscular times, some 'repulsions' are surmounted by tactical necessity. Thus, I've read lately in Pichon, 'Celui Qui Nait' (He who is born), the dieu du future (the future god), Volume 2: "It would be thus a new approach of the god of love (Buddha, Christ) and at the same time it would be a new belief in wisdom that would characterize the best the mythical evolution of society in the 21st Century." Briefly, it would be a syncretism of Pisces (Love and compassion) and Cancer (new wisdom). The 21st Century has many surprises in store for us and the third millennium has much more. Ordinarily, one classifies Cancer among the antichrists. Concretely, it expresses itself right now through science (materialism), purely destructive in the long term. "It would be extremely difficult to destroy the human race with an atom bomb. With genetic engineering, it's a snap." (Michael Crichton, author of JURASSIC PARK). I continue my updating in Christian theology. I'm at the stage of the devotion to the infant Jesus. It goes far enough. For instance: "I have seen my soul in a relation of innocence, and on the foundation of death, emptiness, nothingness and nakedness, to live in divine purity with the holy infant Jesus (...) in the purgation and the emptiness of itself and all that is created."

(Gaston de Renty).

Will the anger of Kalki be compassionate? You're dreaming. "When the King of kings will undertake his glorious return riding clouds, all armored with iron, when he will cause the second universal deluge, the blood flood upon the materialist and quantitative society of the Antichrist (...), human will rise up to the bit of the Redeemer's white horse," (Attilio Mordini).

(24 February, 2000)

... The (practical) sexual procedure that you talk about is essentially tantric. I experimented with it after 1968, from 1969 to 1971 during my sojourn at SAINT JEAN D'ANGELY, without any master, following the study of some texts (P.B. RANDOLPH and JULIUS EVOLA's METAPHYSIQUE DU SEXE)... I keep of it all a fond recollection but the spiritual gain was meager. My personal disposition tends to the complete break between sex and the spiritual, as later abundantly confirmed in my life. It's different concerning you, and you must pursue the experience to its conclusion.

Concerning the 'associations' qualifying Lilith with the aid of universal algebra, you're right to posit the sign of Cancer for her, but you forget Scorpio that seems to me fully present in the formula (note that Wisdom = Cancer). Taurus sexuality is complication-free; it is purely Venus-partaking, healthy and material. As you say, let's keep a bit of mystery. The animals by you quoted are the snake (Cancer and Scorpio as envisaged by Hades), the owl (syncretism of Cancer and Gemini). All this is dark and nightly, mostly dominated by Scorpio and the water element. As to God the Woman, that is anthropolatry. One must practice the abstraction from the human...

I have 2 or 3 titles of CHOGYAM TRUNGPA, good popularization of Tibetan Buddhism. Of course, it's less 'sexy' than Lilith, but still carry on with the study of the Dharma for it's more fruitful long-term-wise than anything that may come from Lilith. Your thesis that Lilith is a Taurus goddess cursed by Aries is appealing and partly exact. In the sphere of the fixed, Taurus gets on pretty well with Scorpio. As already said, Taurus = raw and healthy sexuality. This sexuality is turned tantric when in contact with the tortuous spirit of Scorpio. Obviously, Aries could only curse all this as its domain is Fire and the True, whereas Taurus' field is The Earth and the Beautiful. However the Earth is present with Aries: it's the Promised Land or CANAAN. And Taurus is also the Golden Calf, malevolent for any secularized Aries nation like Israel, turning them into money-obsessed folks. Taurus occupies a considerable part of Lilith's astral makeup, we can be sure of that.

Sophia is a syncretism of Cancer, Pisces and Virgo. According to Pichon, the Shekinah, Hebrew and Moslem, is mostly of the earth element, therefore mostly Capricorn. It's true that he calls Shakti a goddess of the earth, probably because of the Taurus predominance in Shiva, always accompanied by the bull NANDIN. Gemini = the couple; the bull is reduplicated for Shiva and Shakti. All this is not simple. Shiva's Linga is purely Taurus, but intrinsically Shiva is Taurus and Aquarius. The formula of Islam is a syncretism of Aries, Taurus and Cancer. I think of that as I currently update my knowledge in Moslem theology. I've got about 20 books on the topic. It's quite hard. Sufism would rather be a syncretism of Pisces, Taurus and Cancer. Given that the formula comprises Taurus, it turns Islam into a bridge toward the Novel (Aquarius). It is suggested that Aquarius will come from Pisces as, in the past, Pisces came from Aries (Christianity from Judaism and Buddhism from Brahmanism). One wonders. It would be more logical to think that the future prophet and his doctrine would emerge from Islam that is the summary of, the synthesis of Abrahamic currents, and that possesses, in its makeup, Taurus, which is present in the sphere of the fixed (Taurus, Scorpio, Aquarius, Leo). There might be better things to be said. The new prophet might emerge from the BAHAI'IE, as this faith is sometimes presented as the fourth chapter of Abrahamism (after Judaism, Christianity and Islam). I've researched what Pichon and more orthodox authors had to say on the matter. The BAB is at the foundation of the BAHAI'IE faith, revealed in the West by the Count of Gobineau who was then the French ambassador stationed in Persia. According to Pichon: "The BAB is only the prophet of He Who Must Come: the 7th angel of Ismaelian lore as well as the 12th Iman, perfect syncretism of Work and Hierarchy." Work is Taurus and Hierarchy is Leo. Elsewhere, Pichon writes: "... toward 2300, while the Great State will still refuse the god of freedom, works will have appeared, that will create imperfect but durable figures of the god. It could be, mainly, in Iran and Spain. Esoteric and symbolic, the Spanish god will be soon fused with the Great God of creation, probably of Moslem origin. But the liberator of Persia should enjoy a thousand years-lasting destiny, in spite of all the reborn Mazdaism, Islamism and Sufism. Light and Creation, this god would count among his first disciples the followers of the BAHAI'IE faith.

Light = Leo and Creation = Taurus. God of freedom = Aquarius. The Great State = USA...

(June 8,2000)

... I have resumed my studies of the Trika (Kashmir Shiva metaphysics) after more than a year of updating of my knowledge of Islam and Christianity, etc. It was necessary as I lose data quickly; and I have to keep a basic knowledge, and kept updated concerning the evolution of the enemy religions, for Abrahamism on the whole is rotting in diverse manners, and consequently it is dangerous. Christianity gets on with Judaism as never before. I was surprised. Jews, Christians and Moslems are doomed to increasingly become a single block. Rome was the last concentration of Antiquity paganisms. The USA (the New Rome) will gradually become THE Abrahamic empire. And this entity will have to be slain before the spread of the Aquarius dispensation and we've got plenty to wait before that happens. Before that, the JCMG (Judao-Christian-Moslem-God) will reign via his secularized institutions; his survival, purely criminal, will be so bad that ancient persecutions against Christians will appear as playground games.

One of Pichon's hypothesis, in accordance with Nostradamus: the prophet of the Novel (Aquarius) is born in Brittany, preaches in the Midi (Provence, Spain, Italy; all those regions will be Moslem at the time) and death by torture or execution in Switzerland. His message will first grow in the East. Hence the likelihood that it will be based on Shiva metaphysics.

Hades thought that Aquarius would start on January 20, 1999. I don't agree.

(29 July, 2000)

... Having said that, your questions concerning the way in which will be treated the traditions outside Abrahamism in/by the Parody to come is easy to answer: it is enough to observe their current decadence to see, each in its own way, towards which sector of nothingness it tends. Mankind's general degeneration has been foreseen by all traditions; one cannot deny its visibility in both the West and the East. Schuon is happy to notice that the Eastern decline is passive whereas the Western one is active and creative animated by the (Greco-Romano-Celto-Germanic) tendency to change, "and through that to unfaithfulness, indeed even to luciferian adventure". But if we observe the current course of the world, we see an Orient increasingly active in its decadence, especially the 'Asian dragons'. India isn't better as her computer scientists and engineers are sought after and Asia is currently restless in front of the Internet's screen. Finally, let's take note the Hindu-looking cults and sects settled in the West, and we see the parody in action and the bogus gurus only motivated by financial gain. Even in Asia, one corrupts spiritual techniques in order to increase one's income (see FALUN GONG and similar stuff). All those oriental sects in the West emphasize only the motions, practice, action and techniques, and this to satisfy Western 'pragmatism', whilst all metaphysics are suppressed or moved in the background. It's only spiritual materialism, to say the least. In short, this parody is already running. We're right into it.

(10 August, 2000)

Indeed, one must turn away from both good and bad thoughts. In fact, successive thoughts never stop; if one moment of thought holds back, then the other moments of thought hold back as well. That's what it means to be bound, to be attached. To be come free, it enough to realize that, in all things, successive thoughts don't hold back or cling to. One must also drop intellectual discrimination, revelations and visions. Myself, I let all this flow like a river that I observe from the top of a bridge. Anchored in the Self, I let the lower self to its restlessness. Then the lower self starts being ashamed of being thus observed and it shuts up, calms down and stops being agitated; the torrent of thoughts dries up and the only bit left is a thin dribble of water, and often even less than that.

Some speculative projections make some consider that there would be 190 millions of Latinos in the USA around 2100, which would imply that English might not end up as the Aquarius tongue (as Latin was the official language of the Pisces Church. So Spanish might become the language of Aquarius. One wonders. Given that those Latinos (born of a mixture of White and Native Americans) possess yellow blood (Native Americans come the same initial racial stock as the Chinese) and US Asians will number some 70 millions (still in accordance with current speculative projections), the racial background would be greatly affected leaving both Blacks and Whites in minority positions, and a people on the whole yellow (US Native Americans would be around 6 millions, this number being thus added to the mass of Mongolian Asian-Americans). The future has many surprises for us. With the actual rise of current migrations, the future race of the new era is being formed (like the Germanic invasions on the eve of Pisces). There is also another explanation, but it's so far-fetched that I tell you later about it.

(Late 2000)

... The rise of nuisances in all levels gives pleasure to some. Besides, the same guys are not interested in anything else when it comes to the news. They enjoy everything that contributes to the destruction of this global society. This black age is the gutter of history. There is nothing to do to save this abominable society from catastrophes and the definite havoc awaiting it. The majority of this miserable humanity is lost. At the end of the Iron Age, we are in the phase of the age of ghosts, in which people can only reach their reality through screens. I've known the big screen (my first film was Zorro), then the TV screen, and now it's the computer screen, the whole shrouded in an aquarium increasingly dull blue-green, which is normal for a finishing Pisces era, but still not quite over...

...The work of Mircea Eliade is ruled by Libra, hence his remarkable books on the Tree. He is not really well perceived by hard core Traditionalists, but hardly any profane and academic author is appreciated by the Traditionalists. So, we take all the good you can find in Eliade, and there is good stuff in his work. As to religious synthesis, they are inevitable. Each religion, to shape its tradition, 'steals' anything it finds compatible around it. Normal. Other traditions sum up. Islam the whole of Abrahamism. Others exteriorize. It is quite certain that the future religion of Aquarius will exteriorize Christianity. One wonders. For official Christianity denounces any esotericism. So there would be nothing to 'exteriorize'. The people of the future god might be composed of monks. At least, Joachim of Flore thought so. But chastity is mostly a Virgo phenomenon. Anyway, whoever will live will see, for that can of debate doesn't really get my attention now, even if I remain vigilant. For now, what prevails is not Aquarius but a Pisces-Cancer syncretism, and for quite a while.

... The Antichrist won't necessarily be a person. For instance, the King of Terror predicted by Nostradamus for 1999 did come, and many damages occurred due to his presence. He is deduced (that's the anthropomorphization) of major events in this year, like the Serbian war, the eclipse of the sun and the storms (they have, unprecedented fact, ravaged continental Europe from the Atlantic to Moldavia). So the Antichrist could happen to be an entire epoch, a series of determining events, etc. He is mainly, on the eve of Aquarius, mostly made of Cancer. So modern science is the most visible face of the Antichrist, especially the syncretic formula of Pisces-Cancer (biotech industry for example). One has the right to be pessimistic. A pessimist is a well-informed optimist. One is wrong to think that main things occur in a giant, Hollywood type fashion. Generally, everything that is fated to play something significant appears insignificant to start with. Think of the minor figure that Christ, yet what followed was major. So now and again, it's something tiny that is enough to change life in the following centuries

... I enclose here a photocopy of the sketch of my article 'SHIVA OR KALKI?' that is a true-base account, which I intend to propose for publication to the magazine JOURNAL DE L'INSOLITE of Jean-Paul Bourre. You will for the first time be acquainted with the truth concerning the 'why' of current racial mixing and contemporary migrations. My article unveils the reality behind it, perhaps not without danger. The 'scientific' proof of what I claim is the following (it must be said that at the time I wasn't acquainted with this evidence): the Brothers HECK have reconstituted the aurochs, visible in Munich Zoo, that disappeared long ago. So through the actual race mixing of an amplitude that has never been equaled in human history, we're going towards the emergence of the preceding race, 'actualized' if I may say so, for it will be the old race in a new format. The 'de-racialization, the march towards a genetically unified mankind will bring about the 'rebirth' of the previous race, a return to Neanderthal man, and that is ineluctable. This constitutes the secret project, the ultimate aim of Abrahamic anthropology since the 'pact' of MEMBRE... the 'Three' angels symbolize Judaism, Christianity and Islam.

Indeed, I think too that a lot of evil will occur due to and through the Internet. I content myself to observe what contributes to the (self) destruction of modern society... The electoral victory of George W. Bush Junior makes some people happy... The occult reason behind his victory is the long-term destruction of Israel. With Gore, this project would have been delayed. With Bush, this project will be fulfilled on time. It is also said that he cancels the embargo on Irak, which could then resume his armament program. It will be useful when the time comes. This destruction must also cover the annihilation of 'holy places', or their termination by the nuclear fire. Bush has a guru deemed worrying by some: a fellow named MARVIN OLASKY, neo-Christian academic thinking up some 'compassionate conservatism', and who suggests that sects - including Wicca - should be subsidized. Those sects are already exempt of/from paying taxes in the USA.

You see everyday the deeds of the third Antichrist, as it is indeed Techno-Science. Astrologically it is the secularization of Cancer. This evil-creating science prepares the way for the coming of the Novel (Aquarius) with the disasters it produces and will produce. Cancer, when it is non-secularized, is Sophia or Wisdom.

(XX July MMI)

...An idea comes to me... At the end of the Age of Aries, invasions were violent and military, while the development of Pisces folks, i.e. Christians, was peaceful. Now invasions are peaceful, 'humanitarian' so to speak. So can we imagine that the increase of the future Aquarius disciples will be violent and terrorist? Everything is always reproduced, but sometime it's upside down. And yes, Aquarius is a masculine sign, although its tendency is TAMAS.

Survival without quality is degrading, and the Count of Gobineau predicted that... According to Hindu scriptures, the typical features of the Kali Yuga are those:

- illicit relations with the opposite sex (sexual license);

- consumption of animal flesh (the killing of animals);
- All kinds of intoxication (alcohol, drugs, tobacco, etc...);
- Gambling and sport.

The fact that we don't mind tells a lot about our habituation and addiction to all this... The Kali Yuga means the age of conflicts and is nothing to do with the age of the Goddess Kali.

23/9/2001

The explosion in New York was like a divine surprise, as I didn't expect it, NYC being doomed to be submerged by the rising level of the oceans due global warming. The media coverage of the event is neurotic, for there ain't as many dead as forecast, 4 or 5000, it's not a lot compared with other atrocities; it's true that they ain't finished the search in the debris, and moreover there's the censorship as well as some disinformation. So let's see this as a fateful event, especially as to the symbolic element of the crash. The thing occurred under the sign of Virgo (2nd decan, the most 'Virgo' of the three), the 11th which the number of sin according to Saint Augustine. It is here then a purification (the Virgin) symbolic of the sin represented by the USA, everyone agreeing on the symbolic impact but they're unable to supply a correct interpretation. I think it's the start of the physical fight, to the death and to the last, against the West and Abrahamic civilization. Here again, I thought this beginning would be marked by the future destruction of Israel. But no! There is the event that inaugurates the struggle of the disciples, the direct fight, and that is what actually happened. On one hand there is the combat purely spiritual that will commence with the disappearance of Israel (that will be at the same time the termination of the 'Holy Land' of all Abrahamians, as after that there will be only two sanctuaries left: Rome and Mecca).

Each thing in its own time. Sure, Moslems fundamentalists are Abrahamic, but Islam is a syncretism that recapitulates all the Abrahamic tradition, and which is also a bridge between the Old Age (Pisces) and the New Age (Aquarius). Islam shows the way of the limitless sacrifice that will animate the future disciples (Aquarius being a male sign, they won't let people walk upon them, unlike the first Christians that got more than 12 millions of martyrs in three centuries of persecution). Islam will vanish once it will have done its job; The Earth must be radically Abrahamian-free for the installment of the new era. Before the coming of the Novel, a certain percentage of purification will have been reached. This jihad to the last will still take 3 centuries, perhaps more. It's been a while that I choose my side. In the case of the World Trade Center, the symbolism is so evident and precise that, even if you use the tools of grocery occultism, you still obtain remarkable results. For instance, the crash can be symbolized by Tarot Trump Major XVI, THE TOWER. And if you undertake to count the number of windows of the two towers (Gemini), you get 43600, which in theosophical reduction gives us  $4+3+6=13$ , i.e. DEATH! Indeed you couldn't open those windows for security reasons. Plus, if you add 13 to 16 you fall again back to 11. It's incredible. And I tell you only this, for the size of all the parameters is astonishing, confirming that no human could predict that and that it's God's finger behind the case. Now, you could expect the US response to be 'disproportionate', basically killing many innocents (much more than the victims of the crash) in such a way that the intrinsic malevolence of America comes out, and that the current sympathy towards them turns into an icy cold and an universal disapproval. It is also 'moral' that Abrahamian kill one another (Arabs possess the largest reserves of oil, so they're not that innocent as it's partly due to them that this reprehensible society functions). We're quite lucky to be among the firsts to see all that. Astrological details for the end of 2001 presage more violence... So the crash is a fallout from the opposition of Pluto to Saturn of August just gone. I spare you the rest, it's quite apocalyptic and we still should see some nice fireworks. All the 21st Century is critical and dangerous with only a few moments of peace. We are thus in this destruction phase of three hundred years and we must not forget that. And death comes from the sky, as Aquarius is an air sign. We will enter into Aquarius in exactly 2376 AD. In the meantime will prevail death, ruins, destructions of all sorts, misery, horror. We're finally only at the start of the fight in which men will start standing up directly against the Beast, and so to speak with their bare hands given the colossal arsenal at the disposal of the Abrahamians. But the disciples will carry out the limitless sacrifice (kamikaze) also aided by the environmental disasters and all kinds of nuisances proliferating in the modern world that will be exterminated until nothing of it remains. But the modern Beast more or less self-destructs in any case. It's all clear. The path is straight; we know where we're going. However strong the enemy is, it will lose. Given the context, we can expect maybe 100,000 martyrs. That's the price to pay. The main thing is to succeed. Martyrs are inevitable and part of the package... The Pope preaches moderation (in the event of possible retaliations) and forgiveness under the precise aegis of Mary. He has perfectly understood the occult stakes... Indonesian vice-president (Indonesia is the most populous Mohammedan state with 200,000,000 people) has said something like this: "The attacks must purify Americans from/of their sins." This guy has also understood the stakes... SOURATES 3 to 19 of the Koran show Mary as the holiest being, the purest and the most submitted to God's Will, and she also comes to upset the established order... The World Trade Center North Tower was attacked by an airplane, the 'American Airlines Flight 11', and the South Tower by an 'United Airlines Flight 175'. Which brings us back to 11 and 13... Concerning the opposition of Pluto to Saturn, if you draw the chart of the USA (04/07/1776 at 07.17 AM GMT), you notice a Pluto opposition (in House 9: the foreigner) and a Saturn dissonance, the whole thing with the Ascendant in Gemini. If Ben Laden is responsible, he must be surrounded by good astrologers. Let's mostly God's finger in it, and even His hand!

(7 November 2001)

... I enclose here a text that I felt compelled to write on the 'affair' to reply to the request of many people, and as I can't answer everyone in detail, so I've done this all-purpose essay. In fact, there's enough to write a substantial and big article and even a book, but there's no one to publish that kind of thing, so I dropped the idea. I congratulate you to have had the right intuition concerning the value of the events. The latter go on with nonsensical battering of Afghanistan deprived little country. You're right to suppose there's no alternative (heroic resistance or Mac Donald). The aim is now very clear. It's from now on only a matter of resistance. May each do as he can on this issue, it's only the start and it will go on for a few centuries (three or four). I don't believe the white race will disappear with honor, it has fallen too low a state for that. I don't even think it will become obsolete but it definitely will be the new ethnic minority (in 50 years, US whites won't even be the half of what they are today, and Europe will quickly follow in this trend). I don't believe in an Indo-European revival via Russia. All constructive hope must be banished, it's too late, and that since 1945. The only 'hope' is destructive. For instance, the third Antichrist (today's materialistic science) will do a great deal in the realm of dismantlement. Not only the green Armageddon due to it, but also biological terrorism. Blow after blow, our civilization will be constantly hit; that's clearly the first message of 9-11. Let's face it... It's in the second half of the 21st Century that the risk of World War by interposed states will take place...

... I remind you of this: What had to be done at the dawn of the Age of Pisces? Terminating paganism in all its forms and destroying Rome. What must be and will be done on the eve of the Age of Aquarius? Terminating Abrahamism in all its forms and destroying the USA. Islam being a 'bridge' between Abrahamism (which it sums up) and the New Age, its destructive role makes some happy. It's a bit like our old folks in Breizh Atao who used to say: "Even with the emperor of China as long as it is against France". So some people think: "Let's be on the side of Bin Laden as long as it's against the US". This doesn't objectively concerns us, but it will be the business of others, suggesting the straight path to follow to the volunteers. Now, it's all clear enough in theory and there's no need to return to that. From now on and during four centuries, the fight top the last against the modern world is on the march, until the West and its produces collapse into nothingness. It's not a clash of civilizations, it's a war against ONE civilization that spread all over the planet. In the future, I mostly retain 2020 as a very hard year. Astrology reveals that seven out of ten planetary cycles will be ascending (compare with 1914: eight out of ten descending planetary cycles, and in 1940, nine out of ten cycles were waning). The hit should be real hurtful. It's not possible to go into the details (triple conjunction of Jupiter-Saturn-Pluto squaring Uranus and half-squaring Neptune, both the latter half-squaring one another).

Thank you for your letter and the important texts on Shakti, sector that I study in detail right now, due to the necessity to investigate the famous Nostradamus formula I already told you about. But it goes much further, especially I should work hard on the 'Centuries', sector completely neglected (If I had invested as much time as for Rimbaud, many mysteries linked to those 'Centuries' would be today shed with light), and that it's not possible for me to involve myself deeply in it, partly because I don't have the means to buy useful books (and one must know them so that one doesn't waste time with things already expounded by other authors) and also I don't have the time. I have still received two books among the most recent. First is the work of Philippe Poirier, NOSTRADAMUS: UN GUIDE POUR CELUI QUI DOIT VENIR (Tredaniel Editeur). The thesis of this guy is, in my opinion, wrong (the 'Centuries' would be a kind of breviary for the future prophet.

Moreover, he thinks that the base of the Novel's doctrine will be alchemical! This is bad. But there are still some good intuitions). The other book is written by Jean Marc Allemand, NOSTRADAMUS ET LES TRETEAUX DE L'ANTECHRIST (Tredaniel Editeur). Allemand is a follower of Rene Guenon, which makes his book interesting. His book is in two parts; the first translates the 'Centuries'; the second comprises 3 chapters on the occult history of Russia, England and on the Priest John. It goes off the rails sometimes but I admit there's good stuff in it; the chapter on the UK is mind-blowing, which makes this country one of the centers of the counter-initiation on this planet. The translations of the verses of the 'Centuries' are also full of surprises. And it's now mad, now courageous. For instance:

VIII.96 LA SYNAGOGUE STERILE SERA SANS FRUIT
SERA RECEUE ENTRE LES INFIDELES
DE BABYLONE LA FILLE DU PORSUIT
MISERE ET TRISTE LUI TRENCHERA LES AISLES.

Translation

The sterile satanic cult leading nowhere,
Will not be well received by Islam
From the corrupt metropolis, the sick work of the pursued one,
Adversity and hatred, paralyze him in his rush/elan.

IX.83 SOL VINGT DE TAURUS SI FORT TERRE TREMBLER, LE GRAND THEATRE REMPLY RUINERA,
L'AIR CIEL ET ERRE OBSCURIR ET TROUBLER,
LORS L'INFIDELE DIEU ET SAINCTS VOGUERA.

Translation

The Nine of May, the Earth will quake badly,
The great theatre of the world full of ruins,
The atmosphere and the Earth will be darkened and troubled,
When the Orient will call for/to the Holy War.

V.32 OU TOUT BON EST, TOUT BIEN SOLIDE ET LUNE, EST ABONDANT, SA RUINE S'APPROCHE:
DU CIEL S'ADVANCE VANER TA FORTUNE,
EN MESME ESTAT QUE LA SEPTIEME ROCHE.

Translation

Where all is filled with comfort and wealth,
Abundantly, the ruins approaches:
From the sky will come the selection of Destiny,
Bringing us back to the state of vile matter.

The author uses dictionaries of old French as spoken in those days, but he sometimes works the sense of a bit according to his own aim. Having understood that, one can make use of those translations. In his Epistle to HENRI II, Nostradamus predicts: "And the old and new Testament will be debased, burned, and after the Antichrist will be the infernal prince, and still will tremble the realms of Christendom, and also the Infidels will be agitated for a space of 25 years." Which confirms my intuition that one day will come the fight to the last against Abrahamians (including Islam, i.e. the 'Infidels') and the systematic destruction of their places of worship and their 'holy' books. "5 years won't be too much for this work of 'intensive care'.

Given that the secret formula of Aquarius is found in those 'Centuries' (and I wouldn't be surprised if I was the only one to have discovered it since the 16th Century), there are, here and there in the verses, doctrinal fragments. Concerning the Shakti, I think I told you her three 'faces' are extracted from the formula and it gives us this:

1 MAYA

2 UMA

3 AMA

= SHAKTI, and it is to be noted that the 3rd is also the 1st in terms of hierarchy, and each of the names possesses three meanings (3*3). If you isolate the initials of the names, you get the famous pranava of Hinduism: AUM. Now, in Christian esotericism, AVM = Ave Maria. V is not differentiated from U in those days and MARY is the mystical rose, that is to say, "the circumference brought back to the Center"... In Sanskrit, one draws from the Novel (extracted from the same formula) three names of which two are evidently the same than those of his Shakti (MAYA, AMA). The speculations that come from it are mind-blowing. But incidentally, the 'worst' is that the name of the Novel can be translated, according to the Qabalah, with an outcome indeed simplified but 100% comparable to the result obtained from the Sanskrit deciphering. Behind Nostradamus was a group (with some remarkable Qabalah adepts) and behind this group was those that people name the ROSE CROSS (the true ones, not the Rosicrucians). In the 17th Century, those Rose Cross return to the Orient (in the kingdom of Priest John, i.e. JAINA). It's therefore not Nostradamus nor the SODALITAS CELTICA, nor those behind him who are the authors of the formula, but this was brought to the West by the Rose Cross. Nostradamus is only the tool transmitting the formula, fulfilling his initiate duty. I've got to search this further more, but I've got from now on the right track. Besides, one ought to say it's a confirmation through the Qabalah. Of course, they must have done the same thing using Islamic esotericism and Christian occultism. I've clues going in that direction. But originally, the formula is entirely Sanskrit-based, for the Novel comes from Shiva metaphysics and tradition. Thus all my intuitions were right. My approach was perfectly fine. If only I had found out this 10 years ago, no time would have been wasted and it would have been cost effective.

(2003)

The issue of the YUGA is complex, and if Danielou deserves to be read and is a good introduction to Shiva tradition, when one is confronted with a hard doctrinal point, one must consult the orthodox texts and the traditional writings. But I've got none of them that mention the short cycles used by Guenon in his book FORMES TRADITIONNELLES ET CYCLES COSMIQUES (Gallimard, 1970). In this work, he only talks about the 64,800 years manvantara, disposed as follows:

KRITA YUGA (Golden Age) = 25,920 years.

TRETA YUGA (Silver Age) = 19,440 years.

DVAPARA YUGA (Bronze Age) = 12,960 years.

KALI YUGA (Iron Age) = 6,480 years.

The advantage of this formula is that the Pisces era actually terminates the Kali Yuga. It is if I may so a formula both reassuring and hopeful. I think Guenon got that from his guru who initiated him into Hinduism. But I, after having for years preferred this formula, I now agree with the long one used in Shiva writings, for instance in the SIVA-PURANA that says: "Sacrifices, gifts and other rites are totally efficient during the KRITA age. In the TETRA age, they produce only three-quarters of their beneficial results. During the DVAPARA age, those are reduced by half. And during the KALI age, they produce only a quarter of their benefits. And when the half of the KALI age is passed, the benefit is reduced to the three quarters of this quarter." (pp. 125, 126, translated by TARA MICHAEL, Gallimard, 1991). The very excellent female translator comments on the margin that extract as follows: "The 'Perfect Age' [KRITA], first era of mankind (duration: 4,800 divine years. "The toss of the dices in which one gets it right 3 times" [TRETA], name of the second era of mankind (duration: 3,600 divine years). "The toss of the dices in which one get it right twice", name of the third era of humanity (duration: 2,400 divine years). "The sickest toss of dices, name of the present period that is the 4th era of humankind (duration: 1,200 divine years)." The transformation of divine years in human years is given in other books, and I spare you it, but the raw numbers are as follows:

KALI YUGA (1,200 divine years) = 432,000 human years.
DVAPARA (2,400 divine years) = 864,000 human years.
TRETA (3,600 divine years) = 1,296,000 human years.
KRITA (4,800 divine years) = 1,728,000 human years.

Consequently, in this long formula, the KALI YUGA lasts not 6,480 years but 432,000 human years. Guenon offers several precious explanations but refuses to date the start of this KALI YUGA that is 3,102 years BC... Why, besides the data of Shiva tradition, I had finally adopted the long formula. For environmental and rational reasons. After the Iron Age (KALI) comes the Golden Age (KRITA or STYA). So, how could this KRITA age settle at the end of the Pisces era upon an ultra-polluted Earth and cluttered with buried nuclear and chemical waste the natural vanishing of which necessitating tens of millennia?

... Indeed, divine grace comprises different levels of intensity, this is theorized in Shiva-worship in various ways, but really one has to admit in that the Kali age, the restriction in this domain isn't thin but massive, as is the 'normal' situation in the proletarian age, the period in which the Sudra or lower-castes dominate, and even less that that as the frequentation of/with the ordinary world tells us. Let's assume. You and I, we are still well placed to receive this grace (SAKTIPATA, literally "the fall of energy", from heavens to us/upon us). As to me, I mostly had a lot of luck in this field, but that was to the detriment of the rest, for after a fashion everything has to be paid, and the material sector of my life was heavily sacrificed. Other people will pay with something else, health for instance. Basically, we gain nothing for nothing. No pain no gain. No sacrifice no grace. The long formula of the manvantara doesn't bring us with any problem of comprehension, it's simply longer and nothing else. In this perspective, the Kali Yuga starts at the junction between the DVAPARA and the KALI, of course, that is to say after the battle in KURUKSETRA. This battle lasted only 18 days, but brought about the death of 640,000,000 men. The date of the deployment of the Kali was fixed at: 20 January 3102 BC. I repeat that this age LASTS 232,000 years. And it will all end with a PRALAYA, a cosmic sacrifice identified with some gigantic funerals in which the fire plays the role of the stake, leaving a charred ball as residue from which all will start again (Golden Age...) after the passage via immersion into the (cosmic) ocean. Thus the destructive sacrifice (PRALAYA) is followed by re-creative sacrifice (PRATISARGA). And then, only after then comes the Golden Age.

What must retain our attention is the Age of Aquarius, as it is the closest cycle to be born and is already our concern, considering we are now at less than 150 years away from the coming of its prophet.

... Following your letter, I presume that by "PROPHETE DU NOUVEL AGE", you're speaking about the chapter of RIMBAUD EN RUNES which I had fashioned in an article format, chapter VIII I believe, and offered to MENGAL in Belgium for publication in one of his reviews (he was looking for articles at the time) and that was refused ("that a manuscript for initiates and initiates are rare"). There were mostly distribution problems. Consequently, the article that you say you have is not an "accidental exception" DE MON FAIT. But it must come from Brussels. I precise that it was the only chapter of RIMBAUD EN RUNES susceptible to be turned into an article, the only 'prophetic page' of the complete book (27 chapters).

I don't regret to have burned all this. It would have delighted academics for I could get that published in universities as was strongly recommended to me, especially by joining the archives which 'must' were the twenty pages written by the very hand of Rimbaud himself, that had been recovered by Georges MONTANDON during his trip to Abyssinia, and that he had given to Abel BONNARD, and the latter was victim of theft as the said manuscripts were stolen, along side with other precious things, from him during his escape at the Liberation. I bought the whole thing in some second-hand shop in COMPIEGNES, with other bits and pieces from Russia and Romania, the whole dating back to before 1914... The scribblings of Rimbaud confirm that he had pursued in Africa an interest in and some speculation on letters (alphabets from the Arabic, Hebrew, Runic and others). That would explain a lot and luminously many singularities of the work in its bottom. My interest for this traditional science thus goes back to the time when I found those texts, in the middle of the 1960s.

Concerning SHIVA OR KALKI?, there is an "intentional error" in the second part which makes the use of the test very unpractical. Something I'm accustomed to do (see the NABELKOS) and I still do it in the failure of anything/everything else. The result in the fraudulent utilization by some is now and again grandiosely droll as I have been witness to lately when one of my letters to a YOGA magazine was handed to tiny editors specializing in Hinduism.

The article on 9-11 is indeed a piece of occultism written still in the aftermath of the event, based in news items from the USA and given to 6 or 7 correspondents. One of them did some constructive criticisms concerning it allowing me to operate then some rigorous deciphering. Bin Laden is not the boss of bosses of the terrorists. AL QUEDA has spawned a movement greater than itself. Today's terrorism is only a 'practical joke' when compared with the one, targeting indiscriminately, that is to come soon. The interests of Bin laden are the interests of the Abrahamians, that are not mines, taking advantage of it to turn their democracies into dictatorships, process useful to the collapse of things, final and from within. Bin Laden will end up being regretted!

I've only written superficialities on Aquarius, and the reason is that for a long time, I only knew what could be found on the topic in some (rare) texts (they were also dodgy), talking about it. Then I pursued systematically the subject from certain clues (and among them were many red herrings, like Nostradamus for instance) until I reached the end. But it was awfully long. In 2005, I was still missing an essential key. It is only at the start of 2006 that the quest was brought to an end. This Aquarius metaphysics is a superior syncretism very extraordinary and inspired from above, regardless of the time and place of the elaboration. Shivaism plays a great part in this knowledge. Right now, I work hard to memorize, to learn by heart, this 'gnosis' of Aquarius. So that I leave nothing behind me. For I don't think I'm predestined to divulge and vulgarize something. If it was the other way round, I would need a strong 'sign' to motivate my commitment to the task. It would be done anonymously and in accordance with the planned filiation. If it's not me doing the job, then we can expect a delay of one or two centuries. This delay is desirable so that the field will have been properly cleared, and we're very far from it in the West for now...
